

Producing evidence of a slide transitions and animations

In the examination you will probably have to produce a slide presentation. In order for this slide presentation to be marked, you will have to produce certain printouts. For this activity you are required to explain how you would provide print out evidence for each of the following.

- A copy of the presentation slides that includes the presenter notes
- A copy of audience notes
- Evidence of the animation of bullet points
- Evidence of the animation of slide transition

A good way to do this is to use a presentation that you have already prepared (for ICT or a completely different subject) and then try to supply each item in the bulleted list above and then write a short paragraph explaining what you did.
